

A Gala Evening with Julian Fellowes

JULIAN FELLOWES, the Oscar-winning script-writer of Gosford Park and of star-studded The Young Victoria, and who wrote the book for the new Broadway musical Mary Poppins, is making a one-night gala appearance in Richmond on Monday 25 January in support of artsrichmond (the Richmond upon Thames Arts Council) and the Museum of Richmond. Julian Fellowes is the author of Past Imperfect, a scintillating novel, and Snobs, acclaimed as 'brilliant satire'. As an actor, he appeared in The Final Cut and Monarch of the Glen on TV, and he directed the films Separate Lies and this year's Christmas favourite From Time to Time.

Julian is a brilliantly amusing raconteur, full of stories about the world and people of films and television and the Oscar ceremony. He'll be in conversation with John Miller, artistic director of the Winchester Festival and biographer of Judi Dench, Peter Ustinov, Ralph Richardson and other stars.
